

We are currently looking to fill a yearlong internship position in our shelf-life group.

Position responsibilities would include: ~30 hours a week doing shelf life work and assisting in the field on food safety studies at our facilities and farms. Ideally, looking for a Junior, Senior, or Graduate student with some experience working in a professional environment or poultry research. The 20-30 hours a week work load does not have to be 8-5; they will be able to work around their school schedule.
